

NEW CERTIFICATION BODY FOR BUSINESS & IT DESIGNATIONS

Professional Designations Corp. Provides Trusted Expertise & Competence Recognition In A Range Of Specialized Areas

Rolling Meadows, IL – September 19, 2017 – Business professionals seeking certificates and designations can now look to Professional Designations Corp. – a new examination and certification provider – to gain trusted recognition for their skills. With a clear vision, “Inspire professional excellence”, Professional Designations will provide a wide selection of qualifications that support the tactical, strategic and leadership competencies of today’s progressive working professionals.

“Increasingly, people are looking to get their skills acknowledged to help them thrive in an ever-changing and highly competitive market,” said Susan Taylor-Kusek, Communications Director, Professional Designations. “The certifications and designations offered by the Company will enable individuals and organizations to stand out from the competition”.

The Company’s global network of Registered Training Partners provides training for Professional Designations’ array of professional certifications and designations in the Americas, Europe and Asia-Pacific. Among the first certifications available are DevOps, Organizational Change Management and Agile Service Management.

To find out more about the certifications provided by Professional Designations, and its Registered Training Partner network, email info@professionaldesignations.com or visit www.professionaldesignations.com.

About Professional Designations Corp.

Professional Designations Corp. is an exam provider.

Professional Designations provides trusted certifications and designations that recognize an individual’s level of expertise and competence in a range of specialized areas. We offer a wide selection of qualifications that support the tactical, strategic and leadership competencies of professionals. Embracing these credentials enable the next step in career advancement and demonstrate value and expertise to organizations worldwide.

To learn more about Professional Designations, visit www.professionaldesignations.com.

For Media Inquiries, Contact:

Marketing Department
Professional Designations Corp.
Email: media@professionaldesignations.com

###